DEDICATION

● To Mrs. Ruth U. Darsie —whose charm of manner, fairness of judgment, and sympathetic understanding have played so great a part in the progress of Leuzinger High School toward higher and better things—this book is appreciatively dedicated.

● Climaxing years of active participation in school board activities, Adolph Leuzinger retired from public life after playing the leading role in founding the school which bears his name.

With a fatherly eye he watched, until his death, the school grow from 275 students to an enrollment of more than 750. Today Leuzinger High School gives promise of soon having 1000 members.

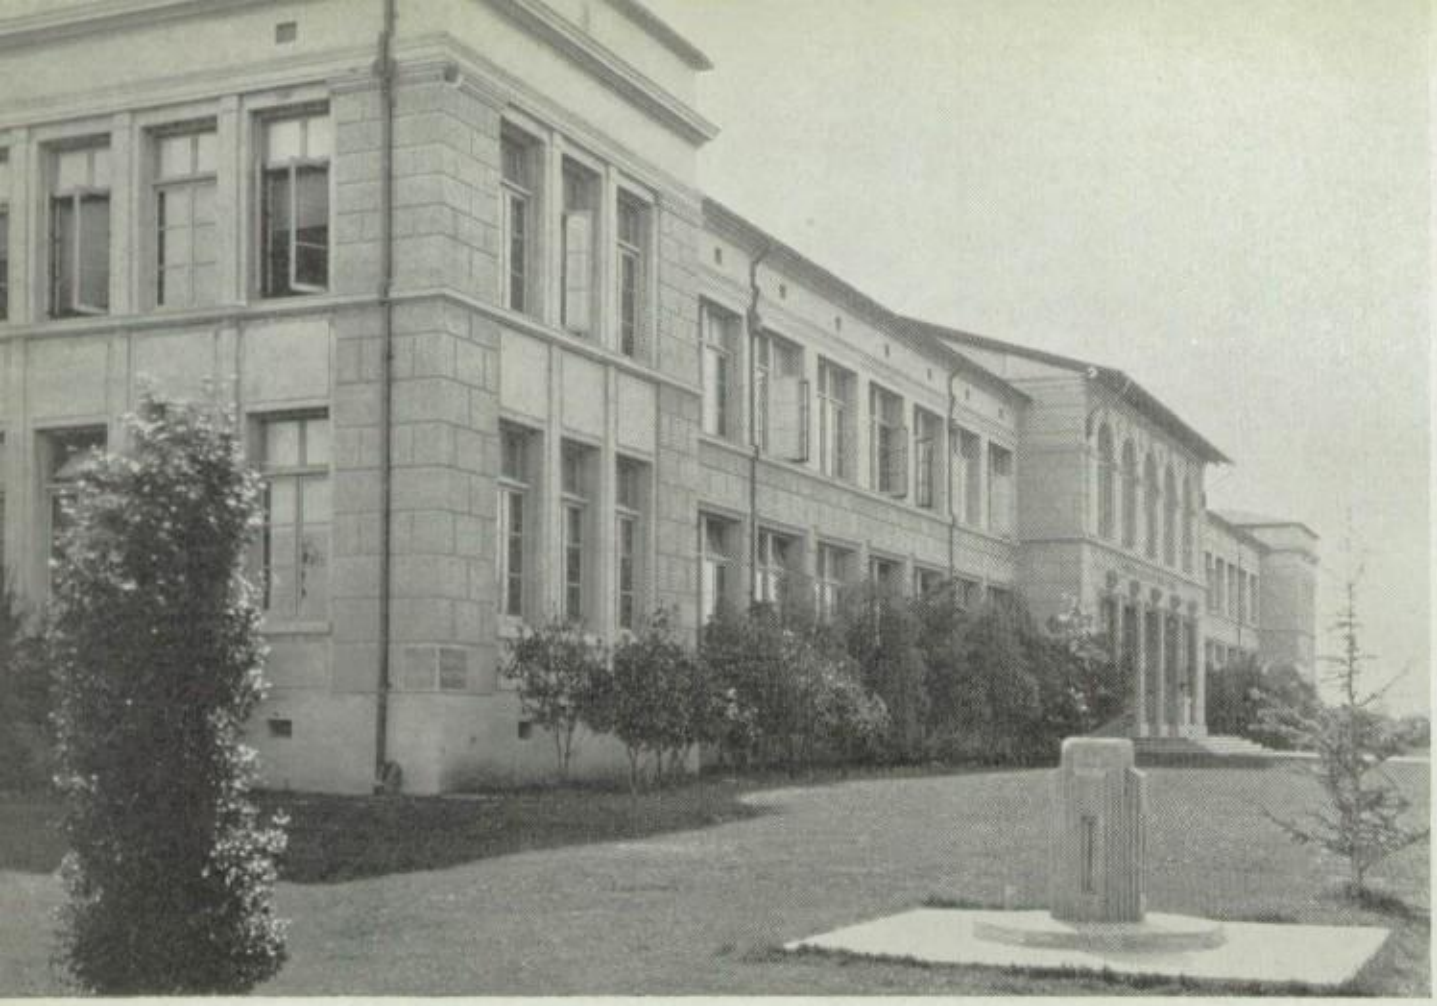
GOVERNMENT



1935

● With the addition this year of a grass baseball field, replacement of the tile roofing, resetting of the sun dial, cementing of the tennis court, and the establishment of a district weather bureau through the efforts of William Yost—Leuzinger is fast gaining personality and becoming an institution of importance in the community.

Dust-swept, barren Leuzinger, five years ago, was surrounded by fields of weeds and with the coming of the rains, the campus became a mud puddle. Water covered the baseball field, forming a lake which the students nicknamed "Sauer's Lake."

Gradual changes at Leuzinger have resulted in the elimination of water by installation of a drainage system and growing of lawns. Many other improvements have taken place, and Leuzinger looks forward to many more in the future.

COURT AND HOUSE

● Under the able guidance of capable student leaders, the Student Body Court and the House of Representatives were in the vanguard of the progressive activities taking place in the school. The Student Body Court with its Court assembly—the first ever presented—and the House of Representatives with its progressive action are to be counted among this year's accomplishments.

CABINET AND CONTROL COMMITTEE

● The "New Deal" made its appearance at Leuzinger with the renewed action of the Student Body Cabinet and the splendid work of the Control Committee. Successful dances were sponsored by the former, and the latter, under the direction of Alex Cameron and Eugene Rukes, aided in keeping the school spirit high.

Showing more and more their cooperative spirit—climaxed by the Pylon-P.-T. A. St. Patrick's Day Dance, in which the students, parents, and friends mingled together enjoying themselves—the P.-T. A. members experienced one of their most active years. Throughout the year they were as helpful as possible in every worthy cause.

SENIOR B'S

● Another year—another Senior "B" class has made history. Usually Senior classes come gradually to the fore, but this year the rise of the 12B class has been rapid. It has among its leaders four possible Seal-Bearers, the majority of the S.B. officials for the coming year, and the Girls' League president. In athletics the Senior B's have been the mainstays of two championships in basketball and one championship in track. The members of this class were the outstanding members of this year's tennis team, which took second place in the Marine League.

The progress of Leuzinger has been rapid of late, and with such a promising class of future Senior A's, the progressive activities of the school should show increase and variety.

BOYS' LEAGUE CABINET

● Culminated by a talk from Tom Lieb, coach of Loyola University football team, and a demonstration by the Washington High School gymnastic team, many unusual assemblies were held by the Boys' League. The annual Christmas drive was again successful.

GIRLS' LEAGUE CABINET

● With "Leisure Time" as the theme, the Girls' League has successfully carried out its purpose of aiding and abetting friendship among the girls by a series of skits carrying out the theme. The Christmas work for the needy was again supported wholeheartedly by the Girls' League. The most important events included the two "baby sister" parties and the fashion show and tea for the mothers.

"The HAUNTED HOUSE"

● Leuzinger's first mystery play since the "Wasp's Nest—presented two years ago—"The Haunted House," S'35 class play, proved to be the outstanding dramatic performance of the year. Revolving around a supposed murder, a father's foolish fancy, a sensitive sheriff, and a slightly erratic playwright, the action was fast and there was never a dull moment during the entire play. This year's plays have all been directed by Maxine G. Frank.

FOOTBALL

● Although early season turnouts suggested a fairly successful 1935 football season, the pre-season injury of Harold Mead, "34" regular, upset the cogs of the Leuzinger machine. The team had only partially overcome this handicap at the beginning of the regular league games and succeeded in making a fair showing. Disregarding the win and the loss standing, which was the lowest in our history, Lorin Knowlton, guard, and Reginald Hayward, fullback, showed enough outstanding and all-around ability to be selected for the mythical All-Marine League team.

BASKETBALL

Under the direction of the new basketball coach, Mr. Thompson, the "A" and "B" teams fared very well.

The "B" team, champions during their "C" and "D" years, again attained the highest position in the league, although they were under a new coach and system. After the conclusion of the games, the "B" team was named as the outstanding "B" team in the City System, along with Polytechnic. The varsity missed championship by eight points, thereby showing up very favorably.

The teams' places in the final standings may be understood by quoting the words of Coach Thompson, "Both teams played good, clean games from start to finish."

BASKETBALL

BASKETBALL

TRACK

TRACK

● Track continued on its apparent rise started in the "34" season by again having championship contenders in the "B" and "C" squads. The varsity team was handicapped by a lack of good competitors in each event. When this edition of the Pylon was ready to go to press, the Marine League finals were coming up. The varsity as a team will probably not make any serious trouble for the expected league runner-ups, Narbonne and Torrance, but may show in some events as individuals, especially in the shotput, high hurdles, high jump, and the mile. Robert Merson, Charles Walters, Robert Chase and a "B" relay team composed of Walters, Merson, Norman Delaney and Fowler, succeeded in reaching the Southern California trials held on May 14. The "C"s who reached the trials were Kita, Trust, Yamashita and Thornhill. The relay team consisted of Kita, Thornhill, Yamashita and Ziegenbein.

"A" Track Lettermen: Gooch, Sanford, Tainter, Reading, Mallery, Happoldt, Belson, Wierk, Odgers, Bradford, Mulvey, Helton.

"B" Track: Chase, Merson, N. Delaney, K. De'aney, Byrne, Skigenaka, H. Wilson, C. Wilson, O'Dell, Fowler, Cleveland, McNabb, Lord, Reading, Eno, Hertz, Fuller, Arico, Peary, Brooks, Walters.

"C" Track: Kita, Thornhill, Ziegenbein, Yamashita, Nakamura, Trust, Tamura, Oshiki, McNamara, Nitahara, Bingham, Geary, German, Schweikert, and Nakawaki.

TENNIS

● New tennis courts and the fine direction given by Coach Barragar may be taken for the reason why the Olympian Racqueteers finished second in the new Marine League. The outstanding members of the team were Norman Hazel, first singles, and the first doubles team composed of Lowell Phipps and William Palmer, neither of which lost a match played during the regular season. Other members of the teams were Charles Mallery, Richard Griffin, Lloyd Freeburg, Robert Mulvey, and Gordon Moon.

Tennis Lettermen: Hazel, Palmer, Phipps, Mallery, Griffin, Mulvey, Moon, Freeberg.

GOLF-BASEBALL

GOLF

● After much controversy in regard to organizing a golf league, a supposedly mediocre Leuzinger team surprised everyone by tying Bell High of the Pacific League for the championship of a combined league made up of the Marine and Pacific Leagues. The most consistent player for the Olympian squad was Lorin Knowlton, who lost one match, which was a forfeit.

Golf Lettermen: Lorin Knowlton, Donald Trust, Fred Harris, Forrest White, James Thornhill.

BASEBALL

● Bad breaks and a home diamond jinx proved disastrous to the Leuzinger nine during the entire season. Although the material was only fair, the team should have made a better showing but for fluke games. The hitting of the team was generally poor, except in a few instances. However, post-season games proved that the team could win if it really got going in the right way. Belson, second baseman, was elected honorary captain after the season was completed for his outstanding ability and his winning of the Green Trophy.

PROGRESS IN ATHLETICS

Keeping step with general progress, athletics have gained prominence in the last three years of Leuzinger's existence. Both golf and tennis have been raised to major sports. Tennis especially has grown in importance with the installation of our own courts.

Track has shown considerable progress in certain varsity events and practically all of the lower class events. During the 1934 and 1935 seasons records have been broken and rebroken. Part of this is due to the fact that the track and pits have been improved immeasurably and part of the credit can be given to the individual performers.

Girls' sports have risen to prominence in the last year with the selection of Leuzinger as the scene for Play Day Leuzinger took the big event of the day—first place in the posture parade. Offering of the various trophies and awards which were not offered in the past have encouraged interest in girls' athletics.

The future for Leuzinger on the athletic field may well be represented by a huge question mark. Incoming classes seem to be poorer and poorer in production of an athletic crop, but since this may not continue throughout all their high school life, Leuzinger has a chance of at least maintaining her standard of the past.

The Homesick Cowpoke

I've been drivin sixty Horses
Hidden beneath the hood
I feed em oil an gasoline
An it seems to do em goods

I step on the starter
An the Motor gives a "Wher"
But say there's sumpin missin
It's the jingle of the spur

The copper gives the signal
An I shove the brass in law
I let the Clutch out easy
An the old girl begins to go

An I give the Wheal a "Flirt"
I know its spiral I'm makin
Gone I surly miss my Quirt

I'm tired of this darn drivin
Of another fellows car
An takin heavy cussins
From a guy what wears a star

I'm leavin this darn country
On a high an hands on hope
I'm goin back to punchin Cattle
With my Quirt, Spurs, an Rope
